

COMPLAINT FORM INFORMATION & INSTRUCTIONS

The majority of certified public accountants (CPAs) are interested in maintaining goodwill and want to resolve any disputes. Direct communication with the accountant may resolve the problem more quickly. If, however, you are unable to attain satisfaction from the accountant, and it involves a matter over which the Board has jurisdiction, you may file a complaint by completing the COMPLAINT FORM.

JURISDICTION

Nevada Accountancy Law NRS 628 provides the Nevada State Board of Accountancy jurisdiction in certain matters concerning individuals licensed by the State of Nevada as Certified Public Accountants (CPA). It does not have jurisdiction over anyone other than Certified Public Accountants and cannot proceed in matters where the individual is not a CPA. A CPA can only be disciplined for a violation of the State Board's Statute and Regulations.

The Board does not have jurisdiction over fee disputes and will not consider complaints submitted concerning what an accountant charges for services. There may be instances, however, where exorbitant fees could involve an act of discreditable conduct, in which case the Board would review the matter.

COMPLAINT PROCEDURE

The Executive Director for the Nevada State Board of Accountancy will review complaints submitted with regard to Board jurisdiction and contact the parties involved. If necessary, a Board member will be assigned to proceed with an investigation and determination of probable cause for a formal complaint. If there is determined to be a basis for a formal complaint the matter will be scheduled for hearing. In some cases a settlement can be reached prior to the hearing under a Stipulated Agreement.

The Board investigates and takes administrative action, if warranted, to enforce pertinent sections of the law. The Board cannot represent private citizens in court or collect money on their behalf.
